Payment Required to Begin Your Review

After you complete and submit your TxMSAS Accreditation Application, you will need to return to our website and select the TxMSAS Application Payment to finalize your submission.

Your Accreditation review will not begin until:

1. You submit the TxMSAS Application Payment, and
2. Your payment has been successfully processed.

Once your card is charged, your application is officially entered into the review queue. Schools that have not completed the payment step will remain in “submitted - pending payment” status and will not move forward in the accreditation process.

Review Process

The full application will be scored according to TxMSAS Scoring Rubric (available separately).

After all required materials have been submitted, the application will be placed in the review queue. TxMSAS may request additional clarifications or supplemental documentation as needed.

Notification

Applicants will receive communication regarding next steps once the preliminary review is complete. This may include follow-up requests or scheduling of a virtual site visit as part of the evaluation process.

Remediation Opportunity

All applicants will receive written feedback. If a school does not meet the required standards during the evaluation process, it will have the opportunity to remediate and resubmit required materials within 30 days for continued consideration.
